Staff Message

We, the Annual Staff, would like to say a few words concerning this edition of the Horseshoe. We would like to express our heartfelt gratitude to Mr. Nygren, without whose experience, patience, and ability this book could never have been produced in the quality which it has.

Now that the Annual is ready for the publishers, we can look back and smile; but at the times when we were slaving over a page, this seemed to be a day which would never come. We have spent many hours both working and worrying about designs, a lost picture, or just about not being able to find time to worry about it at all. We hope that you will find everything for which you are looking in this yearbook. We hope that we have managed to capture the highlights of the school year and the atmosphere of high school life so that you may find a thrill or a touch of nostalgia when you come upon this book after a few years have passed. The moments during which the camera clicked for the benefit of the 1962 Horseshoe will never come again, and if they did, you would not be the same person. We hope that this yearbook will enable you to relive the moments in your mind and so prevent them from being lost forever.

Principal's Message

Congratulations and appreciation are in order to the Horseshoe Staff for the effective way in which the events of the 1961-'62 school term are herein recorded. As you comfortably page through this book and close the cover upon the last page, I hope you might seriously reflect upon the profound importance of education and yourself to the American destiny.

Herbert George Wells states, "Human history becomes more and more a race between education and catastrophe." In the pell-mell pace at which so many of us pass our lives today, ignorance can creep in and all too easily superficial thinking is tolerated. There is an abundance of ideas abroad in the world because we are equipped with the faculty of putting things together and coming forth with an answer. We have memories, consciences, a feeling for logic and an unquenchable inquisitiveness. In view of all this, it is disturbing to realize that so many of our ideas and some of our firmest convictions do not meet the test of absolute truth. Our thinking and conclusions must be guarded from prejudice which so easily can become the flavor of our thoughts.

The ideals of freedom and justice for mankind can be achieved if we find in each generation the right quality of leadership.

We shall depend upon you for this.

Mr. Dorain Jensen, Mrs. Roy Holdt, Mrs. Oliver Hendricks, Mr. Leonard Wright, Mr. Glenn Benson.

The Junior Class is always one of the most active in the high school. This year they sold Loyalty Hats in order to raise money for their Prom which was decorated in the theme of "Around the World." They also sponsored the annual Junior-Senior Banquet to honor the Seniors and their parents. The Junior class officers have had many problems but also many moments of pride. The Junior year is considered by many to be the most enjoyable of all of their High School years.
